Victoria Benson, MT(ASCP)

(Medical Math for Small Mammal Rehabbing)

Victoria is a graduate of UNC-CH and a registered Medical Technologist with 35+ years of clinical and research experience in microbiology and oncology biology laboratories. This extensive scientific background aids in her passion for wildlife rehabilitation; microscopy, identification of parasites, accurate laboratory calculations, and familiarity with the metric system, among other things, are all tools that help ensure the successful outcome that we all strive for.

Victoria has been an active rehabber and mentor/trainer with Wildlife Welfare, Inc. for several years, and is delighted to be able to devote more time now that she is retired and no longer has to transport baby animals on a Triangle Transit bus to her job at UNC-CH!

Linda Bergman-Althouse

(Medical Math for Small Mammal Rehabbing)

Linda began volunteering at the Outer Banks Wildlife Shelter (OWLS) in Morehead City, pursuing her passion in wildlife conservation and rehabilitation twenty-five years ago. She achieved her certification as a state wildlife rehabilitator and continues to actively volunteer at OWLS, working clinic in rehabilitation, coordinating and accomplishing field rescues and mentoring new volunteers. Linda has been presenting wildlife classes on issues and topics relative to the field of wildlife rehabilitation such as "Squirrel Ailments," "Anything & Everything Squirrel," "Alternate Habitat for Chimney Swifts," "Professionalism," "Hazards of Wildlife Rehabilitation" and "Treating the Human Animal" for many years as requested by coordinators for wildlife symposiums and conferences held in our eastern region. Linda is proactively concerned with the loss of wildlife habitat due to progressive development in Onslow and its surrounding counties and regularly attends community and civic meetings to voice those concerns through education, as well as, rally support. Linda holds a Master of Science degree in educational psychology. Linda grew up in rural Macon County, Illinois with many chickens, cats and dogs, but after 27 years of residency calls North Carolina home. She is Eastern Illinois University Alumna, an author, a retired U.S. Marine, College Psychology Instructor, Industry Training Developer & Line Build Designer, Wildlife Rescuer and Rehabilitator, current board member and Vice President of Wildlife Rehabilitators of North Carolina, Inc. (WRNC) and staunch advocate for animal rights and conservation of our natural resources. Linda resides in Onslow County, North Carolina with her retired Marine & Professional Photographer husband, John, and three (indoor only) cats; Seven, Shadow and Frizbee.

Paige Person

(Cottontails)

Paige Person received her BS in Conservation of Natural Resources at NCSU. She is one of the original founders of the Heartwood Montessori School in Cary NC. She spent most of her life involved with her horses until she fell in love with rescuing small mammals. Paige is on the board of WRNC and is a rehabber, mentor and instructor with Wildlife Welfare in Raleigh. She is head of Wildlife Welfare's training team...teaching classes to train new rehabilitators and providing advanced training classes for current members. She enjoys mentoring new rehabbers and taking them under her wing each season.

Paige works full time and devotes most of her time away from work to nurturing our native wildlife. She has a special love and interest in cottontails. She enjoys being involved with other compassionate likeminded animal lovers and making a difference. She is a lifelong learner, which is one of her favorite parts of rehabbing.

Linda Veraldi

(Opossums 101)

Linda has lived in Raleigh for 37 years with her husband Sam, and two children and has always had a passion for anything with four legs. Originally from New York State, where as a child she always had dogs, bunnies, and horses. She was rehabbing before she knew it was a "thing". Finding Wildlife Welfare, Inc. and becoming a licensed Rehabilitator was a dream come true. As she enjoys rehabbing opossums, squirrels and bunnies, she has found her passion with opossums. She has been officially rehabbing for a few years and last year she joined the Wildlife Welfare, Inc. Opossums Training Team and has loved sharing her passion for opossums with new rehabbers. She loves to educate and inform everyone she meets about the amazing opossum and wants to launch a crusade to re-educate the public about their abuse and mistreatment and how truly wonderful they are to have around.
